1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) The United States economy has changed
4 rapidly as automation, artificial intelligence, digital
5 technologies, and modern information and commu-
6 nication systems have transformed the way people in 7 the United States work, live, and interact.

8 (2) The United States must establish policies
9 and create programs capable of responding to chang-
10 ing economic realities.

11 (3) The United States must develop strategies
12 to maximize current assets and help grow a United 13 States economy and workforce that can thrive in a
14 challenging environment of constant change and re-
15 invention.

1 (4) The Nation needs to strengthen and im-
2 prove Federal support for a Next Generation econ-
3 omy and workforce.

4 (5) The United States must explore sustainable
5 strategies to create jobs that will endure, will remain 6 reliant on a local workforce, and are unlikely to 7 move overseas.

8 (6) There is great value and untapped potential
9 in the Nation's rich history, the creative freedoms
10 enjoyed by its people, and the many cultures and 11 traditions that make the United States so unique.

12 (7) Promoting local arts and enhancing the cre-
13 ative economy of the United States would support
14 the Nation's diverse citizenry, rich traditions, and 15 vast creative talents, including the unique history
16 and continuing vitality of Native American commu-
17 nities.

18 (8) The United States must embrace the oppor-
19 tunities and challenges the country faces and re-
20 imagine the role of the Federal Government in pro-
21 viding support for local arts and expanding the cre-
22 ative economy.

23 (9) The United States needs to engage workers
24 from around the Nation to develop, hone, and share

1 expressions of their cultural heritage, including lan-
2 guages, creative collaborations, and artistic skills.

3 (10) The Nation needs to recognize that there
4 is a broad range of undervalued and underutilized
5 human potential in the United States, and the exist-
6 ence of that human potential has profound social,
7 economic, and workforce ramifications.

8 (11) Securing the future well-being of individ-
9 uals, families, communities, and the Nation will de-10 pend in part on adopting Federal policies that will 11 increase support for the creative economy.

12 (12) The Nation needs to improve creative 13 workforce readiness and develop an education and 14 job training plan, including a plan for education and 15 training through specialized vocational schools and 16 apprenticeship programs, to ensure that individuals
17 of all ages in the United States can realize their full 18 creative potential now and in the future.

19 (13) Investing in a creative economy workforce
20 would help showcase the Nation's creative arts,
21 strengthen its capacity for job growth, promote eco-
22 nomic inclusion, boost entrepreneurship, improve
23 and revitalize rural, remote, and underserved areas,
24 and empower communities to share their stories.
